

NEW THIS YEAR ~ 4-H GOAT ESSAY CONTEST

Warrens Woods Farm in Buckley is sponsoring a new essay contest and Boer goat giveaway for a 4-H market project in 2018!

All are welcome to submit an essay in order to compete in the contest. Please write your essay by answering the following questions:

- 1- Why are you interested in raising a goat for your 4H project next year?
- 2- How has participating in 4H changed your life?
- 3- What is the most challenging part of raising a goat for 4H?
- 4- What is the best part of raising a goat for 4H?
- 5- What would it mean to you to win this contest?
- 6- How do you live out the 4H pledge daily?

Each entry must contain the following information:

- 4-H Member Name
- Specie
- Address
- Phone Number
- Parent Information and Contact Number
- 4-H age

We're seeking honest responses from any 4-H member that wishes to submit. You do not have to have raised a goat project in the past. Essay length is up to the 4-H member writing the essay; keep in mind this does not need to be too lengthy. Quality over quantity!

Essays are due by 5PM on Wednesday August 9th. All essays are to be turned in to the Goat Specie Chair via email at rkelderhouse@hotmail.com or via hard copy. Submissions will be reviewed by Warrens Woods Farm and a winner and a runner-up will be determined based up on the essay that is submitted.

Any 4-H member wishing to participate will need parental permission, and an area to raise the animal.

The animal that is awarded must be brought back to the fair in 2018 as a 4-H market project entry.

The essay contest winner will be announced during the Northwestern Michigan Fair at the Awards Ceremony on Saturday August 12th at 8:45AM. The contest winner will be required to meet with Warrens Woods to review the terms of the contest award.
